Newsletter 34 - 2017

Following a recent piece on Channel 4 news, we would like to share our concerns about the popular apps, musical.ly and live.ly. These apps were identified in the report as containing widespread inappropriate content, abusive messages and potential grooming. While there may be safe ways of using them, we would urge parents to read the report on the Channel 4 News site, and check how children are using the apps.

Thank you to everyone who supported our recent school book fair. Particular thanks goes to the staff and Reading Champions who helped to organise leaflets, posters and helped all week with the running of the fair. Our final total is £1126.64 which means £676 in free books for our school! As always, thanks very much for your support.

We say Goodbye to Mrs Forbes today. She has worked at Churchtown for 15 years and has been an integral part of our school. We would like to thank her for all her hard work and relentless effort in providing the best for the children of Churchtown. From doing the children's bank to interventions across KS2, teaching across the whole school and Churchtown Star to dancing in the "Do something funny for money videos".

We will miss you and wish the best of luck on your new adventures.

Thank You

We currently have vacancies for:

CHURCHTOWN'S BABY AND TODDLER GROUP

A messy play group this week, the children loved making marks in the shaving foam, they had fun dressing up and exploring the other activities. We have been learning new songs during rhyme time and learning how to take turns.
