Through the Looking-Glass

On Thursday 29th June, Mrs Healy and lots of parents had the absolute pleasure of going to see our Y5 dancers perform in the Wally Cain Festival. They were absolutely blown away by the quality of the children's performance: it was breathtakingly beautiful and the children should be so proud of themselves. The evening didn't go without a hitch though! Due to a technical error the first time they performed the dance, we got a real treat of seeing it all again towards the end of the evening. The children were true professionals and carried on never-the-less with beaming smiles.

The focus of this year's festival was Inventors and exploration and Churchtown's dance focused on Galileo's telescope. The story behind the dance was clear to see - a special mention should go to William Jones, who portrayed Galileo superbly, and also to Emily Blackhurst whose individual dance solo started the piece off. All of the dancers moved with elegance and it really was a delight to watch. Their timing and synchronicity was outstanding!

None of this happens by chance, and we are very lucky to have such a hardworking teacher of dance to support and coach the children. Miss Barlow's choreography captured the mood perfectly and it was evident just how much the children enjoyed their performance and having her support too! Thank you Miss Barlow for all the time and effort you have put into the preparations and the evening's performance and also to Mrs Maddison-Neill for her support with the children too.

Both Mrs Healy and all parents can honestly say that it was the stand out performance of the night. Well done to everyone involved, we are so proud of you all!
