

Our theme next half term is...

'Blitz and Peaces' WWII

In her vivid and deeply moving text, Louise Borden tells the story of one small fishing craft from Deal that was part of the armada. It is told from the point of view of a young girl who donned her brother's old clothes and sailed with her father on the family boat, the Lucy. The story of that incredible venture is part truth, part fiction. It could have happened.

Michael Foreman, who as a boy during World War II lived in a small fishing town on the English coast, has created remarkable pictures that, together with Louise Borden's spare and dramatic text and an interesting introductory note by Christopher Dreyer, who commanded the Royal Navy ship MTB 102 in the armada, bring vividly alive this historic rescue in which over 300,000 men were saved.

Curriculum Drivers

Independence: Children will be researching a natural disaster of their own choice.

Real Life and Purpose: Children will be looking at how these disasters have affected communities.

Diverse Community: Children will consider the lifestyles of those who live in earthquake prone areas / on a flood plain etc.

Homework is due in on a Wednesday. You should spend 30 minutes on each piece of work and ensure it is presented neatly.

We would recommend a family trip to the Imperial War Museum (North) where we will be visiting on the 2nd November 2017

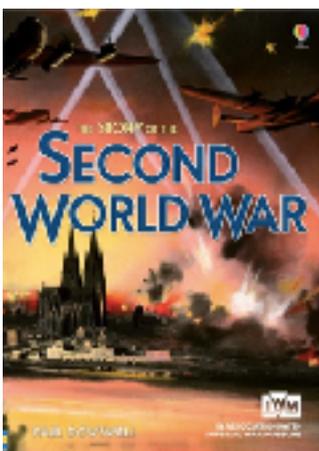

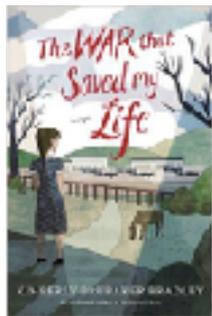

This term we designed and created our very own World War I trenches as part of our Blitz and Peaces topic. The children really enjoyed creating features including tea bag sand bags!

Books to read... about World War II. There are a myriad of books out there about both of the wars that we have looked at during our Blitz and Peaces topic. Here are a few of the ones that we would recommend for our children to read. As we are recommending them, they could count on your Reading Bingo
