

A Royal Reply

Pupils at our school have received a letter of thanks from Buckingham Palace after they hosted their very first 'Hello Yellow Day' earlier in the year. The reply from the palace acknowledged the hard work the school has been doing to reduce the stigma that can sometimes surround mental health. Their royal highnesses have been heartened to learn of the activities the children have participated in and continue to participate in across the school. During 'Hello

Yellow Day' these activities included mindfulness, relaxation, meditation, peer massage (a clear favourite of the children), training growth mind-sets, discussing emotions, random acts of kindness, gratitude time and lots of other engaging activities linked to positivity. We are continuing to drive this positivity throughout the school and are currently promoting 'Kindness'.

Mrs Payne

As you may be aware Mrs Payne is unwell and has been absent from school. She is following the advice from specialists and needs time to rest and recuperate. I know you will join me in wishing her well and hope that she gets her self fighting fit and back to work very soon.
